

As we once again celebrate the birth of our Savior, may the spirit of peace, joy and love fill your hearts today and everyday!

Merry Christmas and have a Wonderful 2011

Love from
The Van Iseghem's

Eric graduated from Victor Central High School and promptly went on to St. John Fisher College. He has accomplished so much!!

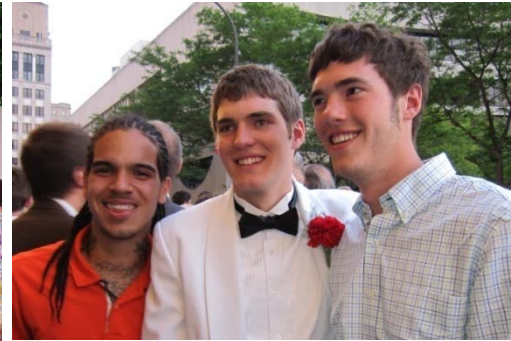

We are very proud of our Curtis John as he graduated from McQuaid Jesuit High School.

Eric and Nancy visited the Women's Homeless Shelter and gave out Christmas gifts to the kids. Nancy & Kerry enjoyed sailing on San Francisco Bay.

Eric and Curtis enjoy being STUDLY. I always knew one of my kids would inherit my athletic prowess and become a Division One athlete! I just never imagined that he would be a cheerleader.

This was taken the one week Kerry Ed spent at home this past summer. He did an internship in Denver with Cousin Carl. We missed him but not all of his raging parties.

Homey Girls climb Bald Mountain in the Adirondacks.

The SLU girls put their aprons on to cook for their men! NOT. The aprons were preventing cocktail spillage.

Eric & Kerry Ed helped Curtis celebrate his graduation from McQuaid. The White Tuxedos and ceremony at the Eastman Theatre were spectacular.

Skaneateles was once again the ideal place for the annual SLU reunion.

The Red Head Callahan Sisters, Marge Ann & Georgia enjoy Canandaigua Lake from the Holiday Harbor Dock Bench. Both are healthy once again. Halleluiah Amen!

The boys and their grandparents. We enjoy the old folks immensely!

We often kid that the best part of our boys are their GIRLS !!!! Here they are enjoying a Rochester Red Wings game. We love Liz & Sammy.... So do our boys!

Sammy & Curtis before a big date. Curt's smile looks a little mischievous here. Sammy, you better keep an eye on him.

The Old Gals showing young Sarah how to sail.

The Beauties and the Beasts!
How's this for a real contrast?
Sammy & Liz, the epitome of beauty.
Adrian and Eric – aaahhh not so much.

Glad the boys don't look like their dad!

Here is Curtis and I at Elon University in front of his dorm. I miss him so much but know he is doing well.

Mom & Dad Curtis celebrated their 50th Wedding Anniversary.

Curtis is so soft spoken they gave him Megaphone. Funny.... he never needed one at home.
He is a muscle man now that he works out every day at 5:45 AM.

Eric and Homey's - Dom, Onaje, Antonio play some hoops. Four of the nicest kids you could meet. I can take them all in a game of "Around the World" anytime -anyplace! I'm not real quick but can still shoot. Just ask Fuzz.

Curtis and his Charges.
Curt's summer job was to be a "Manny" for the Lynaugh boys. He had a wonderful time watching these perfect angels! He gave them lots of love and PUSH-UPS

Kunal & Curtis keeping a close eye on the Guerrieri girls. Someone has to do it and these boys are up for the challenge.
This was taken before the Mercy Formal.
Sammy was the prettiest girl there and her dress was awesome.

Our kids are all out of the house and off to college. The house is quiet and Nancy loves it. I miss the chaos..... and my boys.

Being good parents, we wanted to make sure that our kids knew how to have fun at college! So, we packed up and visited the boys. Our first stop was Furman University in Greenville, SC. We enjoyed golfing and partying with his goons. Then we took Kerry Ed to visit Curtis at Elon University in Elon, NC. We had a great time at Elon and as you can see from the photo on the left. The Vans introduced Curtis to college life. He has a wonderful roommate and plenty of good friends. We went to a football game and watched Curtis Cheer. A great time was had by all.
